

Donor Bill of Rights

To ensure that philanthropy merits the respect and trust of the general public, and that donors and prospective donors can have full confidence in ACCA, ACCA has established and publish a Donor Bill of Rights:

1. To be informed of ACCA's mission, intended use of donated resources, and of its capacity to use donations effectively for their intended purposes.
2. To be informed of the identity of those serving on ACCA's governing board, and to expect the board to exercise prudent judgment in its stewardship responsibilities.
3. To have access to ACCA's most recent financial statements.
4. To be assured gifts will be used for the purpose for which they were given.
5. To receive appropriate acknowledgement and recognition.
6. To be assured that the information about their donations is handled with respect and with confidentiality to the extent provided by law.
7. To expect that all relationships with individuals representing ACCA to the donor will be professional in nature.
8. To be informed whether those seeking donations are volunteers, employees of ACCA or hired solicitors.
9. To have the opportunity for their names to be deleted from mailing lists.
10. To feel free to ask questions when making a donation and to receive prompt, truthful and forthright answers.
